INTRODUCTION

When we grant a high value or worth to a particular purpose, the use of money to that end is not generally considered a sacrifice. It all depends on the level of value given to something or someone.

REFLECTION QUESTIONS

1. What was most memorable from Sunday's message? What was most challenging?
2. How have you seen your excitement or passion for something determine your use of money?
3. Summarize the lesson taught through the parable in Luke 16:1-13.
4. How does the instruction in Malachi 3:8-12 inform the interpretation of Luke 16:1-13?
5. What promise does God give when tithes and offerings are directed toward the work of God?
6. What is the work that Jesus would like us to partner with him on?

Read Luke 4:18-19.

7. Brainstorm how our partnership in Jesus' work changes the purpose of money.
8. What would it take for your excitement about Jesus and his work to increase to the level of affecting your finances?
9. How will you respond to Sunday's message? Do any changes need to occur?

MOVING FORWARD

"If you don't tell your money where to go, you won't know where it went." What greater purposes are you causing your money to serve?
