Discussion Questions

1. What stood out from Sunday's message on Song of Songs 5:3?
2. Read Ephesians 4:29-5:2. What challenges you from this passage? Why?
3. Fighting can be a sign of investment and passion. What things tend to start fights in your relationships? Why are these important to you?
4. Finish this sentence, "You know it's a bad fight when..."
5. What's the longest fight you've had? Why did it go for so long?
6. Finish this sentence, "You know it's a healthy or productive fight when..."
7. From Ephesians 4:29-5:1, is there one principle that might be most helpful to a current relationship? How could this principle change things?
8. Select one aspect of how you typically fight. What is one thing you could do to improve in this area? Brainstorm ideas as a group.
9. What things do you do during a fight that provoke or make it more difficult for your partner to fight well? (Question 8 essentially asks, "What should you start doing?" Question 9 could be read, "What should you stop doing?")
10. Is there an area in your relationship where you have seen the negative impact of apathy? Prayer and wise counsel are great starting points for bringing life back to this area. What is your next step?
